Gone Country

The Alan Jackson Tribute

About

Gone Country is a Dallas-based country band dedicated to honoring the legendary Alan Jackson. Formed in 2019, the project was inspired by a deep love for traditional country music and Jackson’s unmistakable sound.

Alan Jackson's music has remained a staple in country music since the 1990s, earning him multiple Grammy Awards, CMA Entertainer of the Year titles, and an induction into the Country Music Hall of Fame. His songwriting, rooted in personal experiences and the rich culture of his Southern upbringing, has led to an impressive catalog of #1 hits.

Gone Country brings these iconic songs to life with an authentic sound featuring steel guitar, fiddle, piano, and electric guitar. Fans can expect to hear classics like Chattahoochee, Remember When, It's Five O’Clock Somewhere, Gone Country, Where Were You (When the World Stopped Turning), and Don’t Rock the Jukebox.

With Scott Jones embodying Alan Jackson on lead vocals and acoustic guitar, Gone Country delivers a high-energy, heartfelt tribute to one of country music’s greatest artists
