

Beatlemania Now

About

Beatlemania Now is described by Phil Roura of the New York Daily News as a 'FAB FORCE' and 'quite extraordinary; created with affection for its subject matter, it enriches the present while honoring the past.' Through 5 scenes and costume changes, the show's cast performs live on stage against a backdrop of stunning images spanning the most exciting and turbulent decade of modern times — the 1960s. The show spans the Beatles' journey from their pop music beginnings in Liverpool, through their triumphant invasion of America in 1964, and their eventual breakup. Audiences experience the passage of time as timeless songs like 'She Loves You', 'Yesterday', and 'Strawberry Fields Forever' are played, climaxing with 'Hey Jude'. From the moment this amazing cast appears on stage in their tight dark suits and skinny ties, audience members remain under their spell.
