About

Dance On Fire was formed in 2000 by lead vocalist Alan Perez. His goal was to re-create for today's audiences the theatrical, poetic, primal atmosphere of a live Doors concert. Seeing Dance On Fire is like reliving the legendary concerts Jim Morrison and The Doors performed over 40 years ago. Photographs can only hint at the uncanny physical resemblance Alan bears to Jim Morrison. The voice, the emotional abandon of his performance, the potent sexual charisma, is so genuine and intense that audiences are held spellbound. Fronting Dance On Fire is amazing lead singer Alan Perez. He looks like Morrison. He moves like Morrison. And most importantly, he sings like Morrison. Guitarist David Robinson plays his Gibson SG, reproducing the same strange, unearthly sounds and unconventional style of Robby Krieger. Drummer Phil Roach plays the drums with the same unique, jazz-oriented stylings created by John Densmore. Keyboardist Rick Spencer, intensely hunched over his Organ and Piano bass, captures the fluid rhythms of Ray Manzarek. Together these musicians have captured the magic and majesty of a past era. They have mastered a repertoire of over 50 Doors classics.
