About

Foreigner Unauthorized is a Foreigner tribute band formed in early 2012 in Fresno, California, after a chance meeting between guitarist De Vivo and bassist Belt. Since then, the band has built a large, loyal, and growing fan base in the California music scene, with attention for reproducing the sound of Foreigner.

Foreigner helped shape rock music in the 70s and 80s, and Foreigner Unauthorized is built around delivering that material as faithfully as possible. The six musicians are committed to achieving a true sound to the original band, with a set centered on the vocals, sound, and showmanship that listeners connect with in Foreigner's music.

The performance leans into both sides of the catalog, from the driving beat of Hot Blooded to the ballad I Want to Know What Love Is. Audience singing and dancing are a standard part of the show, making the act easy to place for buyers looking for familiar rock songs with strong recognition.

The band's approach is rooted in preparation, consistency, and dedication to the music they cover.

Buyers who book Foreigner Unauthorized appreciate their professionalism and promptness, and the show is designed for fans revisiting the music as well as younger listeners hearing it live in this format.
