"ICONS, Celebrating Elton, Billy and Barry"

About

From the moment the show starts, the audience is taken on an adventure reminiscing of a different time. The 1970's come to life with the greatest hits of these three artists delivered with joy and celebration. We add audio visual enhancements (when venue accommodates) and audience participation is not only encouraged but instigated with several key segments that bring folks onto the stage to sing along and interact with the band. Audiences are dancing in the aisles, singing along and join in on all the action. David's vocals are spot on with an easy flow and his stage banter and stories tie the program together with lesser known stories about each artist and some personal fun poked at himself with some funny stories of his own.

This is not your usual tribute where the artist "impersonates" the stars. It is a celebration where David brings the audience along with him in tribute to these masters and it delivers an evening of entertainment and fun that is very memorable for the audience.
